The Cleve J. Fredricksen Library remains one of the areas' most appreciated and heavily utilized public libraries. Thanks to years of support from the communities it serves, Fredricksen is named Simply the Best year after year by Harrisburg Magazine.

The Friends of Cleve J. Fredricksen Library is a group of volunteers dedicated to supporting and enhancing the Library through a variety of projects and programs. Friends advocate for library funding with local legislators and state officials. In addition to helping plan and promote special events for the library, the Friends' main focus is fundraising. Monies raised at our Book Sales and Silent Auction have been used for:

- Children's, teen and adult programming
- New computers for customer use
- A collapsible stage for indoor and outdoor programming
- E-readers, tablets and an iPad for the eHub Kiosk. This portable kiosk is used to teach library users how to set up and operate their personal devices and to help them borrow electronic library books
- Special equipment and furniture used to enhance library services
- Items and programs not covered by the basic library budget

Without ongoing support by the Friends, critical programs will be eliminated.

Please join us in membership and become a part of our Friends community. Benefits of membership include:

- early admission to the Friends Book Sales
- invitation to the Volunteer Reception
- a chance to meet and work with people who share your interests
