From Our Director, Jody Cole

It’s back-to-school time (even though classes started a couple of weeks ago), back-to-work time after vacations and travel, and best of all, back-to-library time for all of us here at the library. We’ve changed our hours to accommodate you. We’ll be open at 9 a.m. now Monday through Saturday. Weeknights, though, we will close at 8 p.m. And on Friday and Saturday we will close at 5 p.m. We hope this will serve you better.

We also have created some new programs and changed some dates and times of existing ones. Ann Newburger, who has been teaching our technology class, will be here on Saturdays now from 2:00-4:00 p.m. In Youth Services, we have reestablished our Passport to the World club on Thursdays and created an American Girls Book Club right before our regular program. And our French club kicks off on September 8. Come to meet Blandine Mitaut and practice the language with new friends! Regular club meetings will be here at the library at 4 p.m. on Friday afternoons.

As you can see in this newsletter, we have lots of programs and activities, and at the end of September we’re celebrating all that we do have as a community library. Join us here at your library from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Local authors Neil Connelly and Sherri Maret will be here, and Janet Benton will be visiting from Philadelphia. We’ll have crafts and vendors, a chicken barbecue, a book sale and my favorite, a bake sale! The Friends make great treats, and sometimes they are chocolate. Thank you Friends, and staff and board, and all of you community members who support us, energize us, and move us forward.

Now Offering FAX Services

The Shippensburg Public Library is now offering FAX services. The cost for sending and/or receiving is $1.00/page. Our FAX phone number is 717-532-2454.
The Shippensburg Public Library is fortunate to have received a grant from the Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History to display their exhibit about Abraham Lincoln.

According to the Gilder Lehrman Institute, "the Looking at Lincoln exhibition explores the Civil War and issues of slavery through political cartoons depicting Abraham Lincoln and his policies. These cartoons are vividly biting; they invite us to put aside twenty-first-century assumptions and look at events through the eyes of people living in the era. Among the highlights are: a California printing of the Emancipation Proclamation signed by Abraham Lincoln and political cartoons relating to the election of 1860. As Americans continue to debate the legacy of slavery, these cartoons provide a historical point of reference for current events.

"Founded in 1994 by Richard Gilder and Lewis E. Lehrman, the Gilder Lehrman Institute of American History is the leading American history nonprofit organization dedicated to K–12 education while also serving the general public. The Institute’s mission is to promote the knowledge and understanding of American history through educational programs and resources."

The exhibit will be on display at the Shippensburg Public Library from Tuesday, September 25 - Wednesday, October 24, 2018.

Library Restoration Continues

As part of the restoration efforts to the original Stewart House portion of the Shippensburg Public Library, Carbaugh and Landi completed painting several areas, including the downstairs hall. Some of the original c. 1880 woodwork was missing. Jim Small, a local cabinetmaker, brought his considerable skills and experience to the challenge of making woodwork to match the original portions. First, he created a shaping tool which allowed him to shape aged walnut to match the original sections. He then used a multi-step process to stain the pieces, achieving an excellent color match. Fitting the new pieces in with the existing sections required Jim Small and his helper, Michael Pimental, nine hours of labor. Thank you, Jim, for your beautiful artistry and your contribution to the restoration efforts.

October
On August 22, Shippensburg University department professor, Dr. Richard Stewart, presented a program at the Shippensburg Public Library about ticks. He cited the existence of 26 species of ticks, including deer ticks. Approximately fifty percent of deer ticks carry Lyme disease. Pennsylvania has the most recorded cases of Lyme disease, occurring mainly from May to August. Symptoms of Lyme disease include rashes, facial palsies, and flu-like symptoms. To minimize the presence of ticks, Dr. Stewart suggests modifying habitat, spraying repellant on clothing and wearing protective clothing. Wearing long sleeves and long pants, tucking in shirts, pulling socks over pants, and wearing high boots are measures to avoid ticks. Dr. Stewart provided some tick removal techniques including using a lint roller on clothes, placing clothes in a dryer for ten minutes to kill ticks, and using forceps if an imbedded tick is found. Dr. Stewart is continuing his study on ways to manage the tick population.

Thank you, Dr. Stewart for a very informative program.

Banned Books Week
September 23-29, 2018

Banned Books Week, September 23-29, 2018, is a celebration of our freedom, to read. This year’s theme, from the American Library Association, is “Banning Books Silences Stories. Speak out!” In 2017, the ALA tracked 354 challenges to books in libraries and schools. Grounds for challenges are wide ranging. Offensive language, violence, gender issues, sensitive subject matter, sexually explicit content, and religious themes are among a few of the bases for challenges. Not only books but DVDs, data bases, and art exhibits have all come under scrutiny. Literature for all age groups has been targeted. The Color Purple, Of Mice and Men, Fahrenheit 451, and The Kite Runner have been challenged. From teen, young adult, and children’s literature, Goosebumps, George, Thirteen Reasons Why, and Drama were among the ten most challenged books in 2017. Books facing the challenges are often award-winning, popular literature. Fortunately, opponents of challenges do speak out to ensure that books containing important topics continue to be available to readers.
