From Our Director, Jody Cole

Libraries Rock! That’s the 2018 Summer Learning Program theme, and we’re rocking it here in Shippensburg. Join us June 5 at 6:30 p.m. as we kick off our program with an ice cream social. We’ll have ice cream and drinks and our friendly staff and volunteers to help you register for our summer learning program for children, teens, and adults. We’ll have performers every Tuesday night in June at 6:30, too. No registration required. But please do register for our summer camps.

We’re having a Monday matinee on June 4 at 2:00 p.m. Our feature presentation will be Cars 3. Bring your own snack if you like, and enjoy it while you watch the show. Also on Mondays, join us from 3:00 p.m.-5:00 p.m. as we restart our iPad and iPhone group with Ann Newburger. And later on Mondays, on June 4 and June 18, join our Healthy Hangout group at 7:00 p.m.

While you’re here, don’t forget to visit our Book Nook. Sales support the library, and we have a June BOGO special on hardcover fiction books. We have a special on ducks as well! It’s the Chamber’s 2018 Bloom Festival and our Third Annual Duck Derby! You can purchase duck certificates at the desk.

All of us here at the library hope you will join in our summer fun. We can’t thank you enough for your community support.

SPECIAL EVENT!

3rd Annual Duck Derby!

Saturday, June 9th
A Fitting Tribute

The Shippensburg Public Library recently received a generous donation from the Brenize family. This donation honors two Brenize family members, Doris Brenize (the grandmother) and Steve Brenize (the grandson). Doris was married to Paul Brenize for 62 years. Doris passed away about eighteen months ago and left an impressive legacy of helping others. For many years, Doris served as a reading and math aide in the Shippensburg Area School.
District. During the summer months, Doris volunteered with Reading Rainbow, held for many years in the basement of the library. Her grandson, Steve, fondly remembers accompanying his grandmother to the library during those summers of his childhood. Upon her death, donations to the library in lieu of flowers were requested as a way to honor her love of children, reading, and the library. When Steve turned forty recently, his wife Angela, envisioned donating to the library instead of throwing a party as a way to honor his birthday. Angela saw this as a way to celebrate Steve's birthday and to honor his grandmother's community spirit.

Two leaves were placed on the Donor Tree in the new lobby of the library in memory of Doris. The family is hoping that their donations will inspire others to donate to the Shippensburg Public Library. In doing so, they hope the library can continue to increase its programming to serve the public.

Special Programs

i-pad & i-phone for Everyone!

Ann Newburger will be instructing those interested on how to use their wireless devices Monday afternoons in June at the library. Meeting dates are June 4, June 11, June 18 and June 25. Program time is from 3:00 - 5:00 pm and will be in our 2nd floor Reference Room.

Kiwanis Club

The Shippensburg Kiwanis meet the 1st and 3rd Tuesday of the month from 5:30-6:40 pm at the Shippensburg Public Library in the 2nd floor Reference Room. Kiwanis is a volunteer-led service club that strengthens communities. We welcome all individuals to come and see what we're about!

The Shippensburg Public Library appreciates the Shippensburg Kiwanis Club's support of our Summer Learning Program.

GIRL SCOUTS in the HEART of PA

Would you like to know what the Fun in Nature Challenge is all about? Do you like spending time with friends and learning fun facts about all sorts of things?
Parents and girls are invited to come to a meeting to recruit new members Monday, June 25th from 5:30-6:30 p.m. at the Shippensburg Public Library in the 2nd Floor Board Room. There will be an activity for the girls to do and informational pamphlets to take home as well.

Fashions of Fiction

The Shippensburg Public Library, in partnership with the Fashion Archives and Museum of Shippensburg University, has crafted a display to draw attention to the newest exhibit at the museum. The exhibit entitled The Fashions of Fiction from Pamela to Gatsby showcases the clothing which adds to the authors’ visions of the characters. So visit the Shippensburg Public Library to take a step back in time, view the display and check out the books. Visit the museum to see the fashions from those long ago eras.

The Fashion Archives and Museum is open Monday-Thursday, 12 Noon - 4:00 p.m., or by appointment.
The exhibit will run through April 11, 2019.

An enjoyable evening was had by all who attended Floyd "Super Reader" Stokes' visit at the Shippensburg Public Library. Mr. Stokes read from several of his books and with the help of Assistant Youth Director, Missie Dawes, presented a dramatic reading of the children's classic The Little Red Hen.

A SUMMER READ
Dreamland: the true tale of America’s opiate epidemic
by Sam Quinones

An explosive true account of addiction, marketing and the making of an epidemic weaves together the story of Purdue Pharma's campaign to market OxyContin, while, at the same time, a massive influx of black tar heroin took the county by storm through an almost unbreakable marking and distribution system.

June Authors

Colleen McCullough (June 1, 1937) This Australian novelist and scientist is best known for The Thorn Birds. Born in New South Wales to an Irish father and a New Zealander mother, Colleen and her brother were often the object of their father's cruelty. Her parents had an unhappy marriage that included frequent fights. Colleen did eventually attend college. Among her early jobs were that of a teacher, librarian, and a journalist. She had dreamed of becoming a doctor, but had to abandon the study of medicine after developing an allergy to the soap used in Australian hospitals. Eventually, she did become a researcher in neurophysiology, a study of the nervous system. She worked in London for four years, then at Yale for ten years. To supplement her income, she turned to writing, which had been a childhood interest. Her first novel, Tim, was made into a movie in 1979. The Thorn Birds, her second novel, has enjoyed tremendous success and sold more than thirty million copies. The paperback rights sold for just under two million dollars. It was also the basis for a ten-hour television mini-series. Her writing brought financial security to McCullough and allowed her to give up her scientific career. Following her ten years at Yale, she settled on Norfolk Island in Australia. In 1982, she married Ric Robinson, a government official. She became stepmother to his two children. McCullough died of kidney failure in 2015.

Larry McMurtry (June 3, 1936) Larry McMurtry was born on June 3, 1936 in Texas to a rancher and his wife. Although books were not common in their home, the family spent time on the grandfather's porch sharing stories. One of four children, McMurtry worked on his father's ranch but preferred reading. He was successful as an athlete and a scholar, eventually graduating from the University of North Texas. He then moved to Houston where he worked as a book store manager while getting his M.A. from Rice. He spent time at Stanford, and then he returned to Texas to pursue writing, while also teaching at Rice and Texas Christian University. His habit is to write up to ten pages a day. His first novel, Horseman Pass By became a film several years later. The Last Picture Show his best-known novel was also made into a movie. McMurtry later left Texas for positions in Virginia and Washington D.C. He opened the first of three book stores in Washington. His stores specialized in rare and used books. His store in Texas was one of the largest in the nation. When McMurtry decided to divest himself of his stores, this store had between 400,000 and 450,000 books. At auction, books were sold by the shelf. Several of McMurtry's other novels have been made into films, and Lonesome Dove inspired a television series and earned him a Pulitzer Prize. He has also won Emmys and an Oscar in addition to numerous writing awards. McMurtry has been married twice, and has one son, James. He is a musician and an actor.
