From Our Director, Jody Cole

May! We had so much fun in April that we almost didn't want it to end. The library staff and our loyal volunteers, Friends, and board did a great job as we hosted an Easter egg hunt for over 350 people and our annual kindergarten registration for the class of 2032. It is always good to meet new people and to have them become a part of our library community.

We’re starting May in a super way with Super Reader Floyd Stokes, who will be here on May 7 for a fun family event. Come to see us and register to win tickets to Dutch Wonderland. Bring your library card, too, to win a special prize and to check out your favorite books and DVDs!

Losing sleep over money or other matters? Randy Taylor will join us on May 13 to talk about money—specifically Social Security—and Michael Stilp will be here May 15 to talk about sleep. On different dates during the month, seniors can learn how to get rent and property tax rebates.

Please note that in the middle of the month the Cumberland County Library System will be moving its headquarters so there will be a slight disruption to service. We’ll get you your materials as soon as we possibly can!

On a more somber note, near the end of the month we’ll be closed on Memorial Day as we remember those who gave their lives in service to this country.

The Seven Keys to Enhancing Social Security Benefits

Anyone nearing retirement or who would like to learn more about Social Security benefits is welcomed to join us Monday, May 13th at 6:30 p.m. in the Shippensburg Public Library Community Room.

During this informative program, Randy Taylor shares seven keys that can enhance your benefits with Social Security. Randy is the owner of Taylor Financial Management in Shippensburg, PA. A former high school Social Studies teacher, Randy has been a financial advisor for the past 12 years. He works with a variety of clients to help them achieve their financial goals. Randy lives in Shippensburg with his wife, Marcie, and two children, Lauren and Seth. He is the President of the Drew Michael Taylor Foundation and is a member of the Shippensburg Rotary Club and the Shippensburg Chamber of Commerce. He enjoys running, biking, traveling, and coaching his son’s youth basketball team.

Sleep & Acupuncture
There’s nothing like a good night’s sleep to enhance your health and take care of your body. However, there are times when we just don’t get that right amount of sleep at night.

Wednesday, May 15 at 6:30 p.m., let Michael Stilp show you ways to manage your sleep problems naturally.

If you are experiencing symptoms from sleep apnea, have difficulty falling asleep, difficulty staying asleep, sleep walking, chronic fatigue, brain fog, headaches, or not feeling refreshed upon waking up, acupuncture and natural remedies can help. “Our bodies are always working for us. Sometimes they need some assistance,” says Stilp. As a NCCAOM-certified professional, he can help you transform your vitality and life for the better, and enjoy yourself along the way. Through these time tested practices, you can find relief from all types of health issues.

An Egg-stra Special Time

The annual Easter Egg Hunt at the Shippensburg Public Library was held Saturday, April 6, 2019 to a very enthusiastic crowd. Approximately 180 children and 175 adults participated in this family event. The egg hunt was held outside in the library’s yard, while inside visits with the Easter Bunny and craft activities were available for the young ones. A special guest appearance was made by Miss Sarah’s bunny, Bunito and her little ones. Thanks to the Friends of the Shippensburg Library for helping to make this popular event so successful!

Nutrition and the Brain

“Nutrition and the Brain” drew ten people to the library on Tuesday night to hear Barbara Goll speak about the nutrients the brain needs and how to get them from foods. Goll, a community educator and nutritionist for Homeland at Home, has spent most of her career in the long-term care setting as dietitian, dietary manager, and life enrichment coordinator. She aims to help people age in place. Goll first described the physical makeup of the brain and then moved on to speak about the 45 nutrients it needs. She emphasized the importance of these nutrients in preventing memory loss and in maintaining memory in those who are already experiencing memory loss. She also spoke about foods that should be reduced or avoided and noted the role of proper hydration in cognition.

The Reason for a Flower
by Ruth Heller
Shows a wide variety of flowers, tells how they are pollinated and form seeds, and describes some of the useful products we get from flowering plants.

Youth Services Assistant, Sarah Cornman is pictured reading The Reason for a Flower by Ruth Heller to those children who attended the special program Wednesday, April 24th sponsored by Longwood Gardens. Following the story, the children explored various seeds of plants and had the opportunity to plant sunflower and peanut seeds in individual bio-degradable pots to take home. A drawing was held to win 4 tickets to Longwood Gardens.
