From Our Director, Jody Cole

In the September newsletter, I correctly predicted that September would be a blur, and it was!

We crammed training, flooring, carpeting, and our annual Library Celebration Day into one month, and it all fell into place.

Many thanks to the Naugle Foundation and the Stewart Foundation for grants that helped us to complete work on the Stewart House, and to King Street Carpet Outlet for doing such a beautiful job on schedule. Many thanks as well to the Free Library of Philadelphia who arranged for our training and to all of the volunteers, staff, Friends, and board who helped with Library Celebration Day.

We’re back to "normal," and we have some great programs coming up. Our I Spy program has returned, and we have a new Books and Boots group for ages 2-4. On the fifth Tuesday of the month, we’re showing the movie Coco in partnership with the Drew Michael Taylor Foundation.

Adult programming features health and wellness. We have programs on gut health, food and moods, and Medicare changes. Please note that we will be closed on October 30 for our countywide staff development day.

See you at the library!

CCLS Staff In Service Day

Now Offering FAX Services
During our third annual Celebration Day, we also celebrated a new name! We had something for everyone: crafts, music, food, baked goods, and a ribbon cutting.

The Shippensburg Public Library is now offering FAX services. The cost for sending and/or receiving is $1.00/page. Our FAX phone number is 717-532-2454.

Library tours

Tours of the Shippensburg Public Library are being offered. Please register ahead of time to schedule a tour of the library on Fridays at 1:00 p.m. by phoning 717-532-4508. The tour will focus on the history and architecture of the former Stewart family home. Tours at other times may be arranged by making an appointment.

Gut Health

Hippocrates stated over 2000 years ago – “All disease begins in the gut.” Our bodies are very complex and interconnected ecosystems. Our gut, often called our 2nd brain, has the most interaction with the outside world and directly communicates with our brain. A properly working gut isn’t just about being regular, it is the pathway to long term health.

Come learn how to improve your gut health with Barbara Goll on Thursday evening

October 17, 2019 at 6:00 p.m. at the Coy Public Library of Shippensburg.

Ms. Goll is a Community Education Liaison and Nutritionist from Homeland at Home. She has spent most of her career in various levels of long term care working with residents to improve their nutritional status and quality of life. Her passion is educating and helping people live their best lives no matter what challenges they face.

Food and Mood Workshop

You’ve heard the phrase, “You are what you eat.” You also feel what you eat. Changing what you eat is an easy and inexpensive way to support your emotional health.

Join Susan Stewart, LMFT, MDiv, an integrative mental health provider, for a free seminar and discover how food plays a vital role in our moods and stress levels. In this short workshop, she will explore food as medicine – what to add and what to avoid – in dealing with anxiety, depression, energy levels and stress responses. You’ll come away with simple tips and recipes to feel better and more in control of your emotional health.

Thursday, October 24, 2019 6 - 7:30 pm

Registration is encouraged but not required.
Discover Medicare

As of January 1, 2020, Medicare plans are changing. Diane Montanti will conduct two informal seminars. The first 15 minutes of the seminars will explain the changes to Medicare, leaving time for questions and answers.

Light snacks and beverages will be offered as well as information on the changes to the Medicare program.

Two Sessions:
Tuesday, October 29
11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m. or 6:00-7:30 p.m.

Choose the time that best suits your schedule.
Please call 1-800-800-1999 to reserve your day and time.

eBooks and eAudiobooks

Best Seller Lists
In the photos above, Cindy Pimental, library board member, covered the curtains and the portrait of George Stewart, Sr. in the DVD room as well as the portrait of George Stewart, Jr. in the audio book room in preparation for the flooring project of the front rooms of the library. Book shelves were moved to one side and then the other of the main room to allow for the new carpet to be installed. The computer carousel was taken down and then put back for our patron's internet use.

Free Library of Philadelphia - Staff Workshop

Recently the staff of the Coy Public Library of Shippensburg participated in a workshop series by the Free Library of Philadelphia. The series entitled Skills for Community-Centered Libraries was divided into four sessions: Building Connections, Community Engagement, Effective Communication and Program Development.

The staff learned how to identify strengths, community assets (businesses, organizations and people) and how to use these assets to form relationships with community partners. The benefits of recognizing and creating these partnerships with the library can enhance and strengthen community programs.

The workshop was made possible in part by a grant from the Institute of Museum and Library Services. Presenters were Eileen McGinley and
