February and currently 66 degrees! The groundhog did his job and said we'll have an early spring. So far, so good. Even though it’s warm outside, we still would like you to come inside (even for a short time) to be part of the action here this month and to pick up your books, audiobooks, and movies. We have a lot going on, from our winter children’s programming to some new things we’re trying (music and coloring) to a blood drive on February 13th. Give a gift that might save someone’s life right before Valentine’s Day. Near the end of the month, join us for our One Book, One Community event when we talk about Sarah Smarsh’s book Heartland: A Memoir of Working Hard and Being Broke in the Richest Country on Earth. Last, save this date for next month because February will go by quickly! March 28, 2020. Please join the Friends of the library for breakfast at Applebee’s in Chambersburg from 8 a.m. – 10 a.m. Thank you for all you do to support us.

COMPLETE This CHAPTER CAMPAIGN

Thanks to our generous supporters, we reached our 2019 annual goals for both the Annual Appeal ($11,000 goal) and Complete This Chapter for our building expansion ($100,000 goal). The Annual Appeal received $12,989.60 and Complete this Chapter received $135,212.12 in 2019.

Complete This Chapter is a multi-year campaign with a $1 million total goal. Due to pledged gifts, our current goal is $500,000 or $100,000 per year through 2023. The building expansion has increased library usage for programs, events, and meeting space. Thank you for contributing to the success of the Jeffrey W. and Jo Anne R. Coy Public Library of Shippensburg and the entire community that it serves.

Acupuncture and Chinese Medicine

Michael Stilp, certified acupuncturist, presented a program to nine audience members on January 28th at the Coy Public Library. His certification includes not only acupuncture but also therapy energies of craniosacral and reiki. He has 20 years’ experience as a massage therapist as well. Stilp explained that chi or energy flows through the body along meridians, and if meridians are blocked, pain is present. Blockages can be caused by extremes in body temperature, trauma, or excessive dampness in the body. Stilp showed the tiny needles used to insert in very specific areas to bring in and release energy to the meridians to begin the process of relieving pain. He noted that many patients find relief from lower back pain, and that acupuncturists can treat a wide range of conditions from headaches, digestive problems, arthritis and many others. With wide ranging experience and extensive training, Stilp was able to answer audience questions in a clear and concise manner. He currently does practice locally several days each week.

Thank you Michael for an interesting and informative presentation.

February Authors

Jerry Spinelli (b. February 1, 1941) Spinelli is a native Pennsylvanian, being born in Norristown and currently living in Phoenixville, PA. As a child, he dreamed of being a cowboy, even dressing up as a cowboy and going to school in that outfit. He later dreamed of being a professional baseball player but realized he didn’t have the necessary skills. He turned to writing in high school and continued to write while he attended Gettysburg College. He went on to earn his Master of Arts degree from Johns Hopkins. Spinelli held a variety of jobs while pursuing his writing in his spare time, having no success with his first novels written for adults. After his first successful children’s novel, he has gone on to write numerous children’s and young adult books, including Newberry Award winner, Maniac Magee, as well as Stargirl, and Wringer. He and his wife, Eileen, also a children’s writer, have six children and twenty-one grandchildren.

John Steinbeck (February 27, 1902) Born and raised in the Salinas Valley region of California, Steinbeck used this setting for many of his 33 books. Living in a rural area, he spent summers working on ranches and on farms with migrant workers. He learned about the harsh life of these people, which became a theme in his writing. After some time at Stanford University, and having no success as a writer, he worked briefly as a tour guide and later even started an unsuccessful business with friends manufacturing plaster mannequins. Tortilla Flat was Steinbeck's first critical success, followed by his novels focused on the plight of migrants. The Grapes of Wrath is considered to be his best work, winning the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction in 1939. During World War II, he was a war correspondent and was wounded while on missions in the Mediterranean. In the 1950’s, he worked for a movie studio as film narrator and also recorded readings of his own short stories. Among many honors, Steinbeck was awarded the Nobel Prize for Literature. This award came as his last novel, The Winter of Our Discontent, appeared and was not a critical success. He never published fiction again. Steinbeck was married three times and had two sons. He died on December 20, 1968 of heart-related issues.
