Winter - the BEST Season!

Homework problem? Call the Homework Helpers! January 2013 marks the second year of a very successful program at the library for students in grades 1 - 5. Designed and run by Fredricksen Trustee Mary Anne LaPorte, Homework Helpers consists of five professional educators. They are available every Thursday afternoon during the school year, at 3:30 p.m., in the library's lower lobby.

This one-on-one program pairs one educator with one student for up to an hour of concentrated "drop-in" help. In the past calendar year, this program provided 72 student sessions.

Students and their parents are welcome to drop in for tutoring, support with research and report-writing, and help with using the library. Students bring their school assignment directions. A terrific program which has proven invaluable to the students it serves.

January marks the beginning of public voting for "Simply the Best." Fredricksen has received this award in the "Best Library" category for eight years. A ninth year would be truly spectacular! To vote, link to the ballot from the Fredricksen Library website.

And then there's our outreach programs...Fredricksen has teamed up with PennState Master Gardeners, Yellow Breeches Watershed Assn and the Alliance for the Chesapeake Bay to provide workshops on how to garden with nature. The series lasts from March till October, and registration begins February 1. Also for gardeners, Fredricksen has seed saving (and exchanging!) in our focus, as a joint program with Slow Food Harrisburg on March 17. More outreach upcoming: Central Pa Blood Bank First Friday blood drives at Fredricksen, Read Across America, in which men from our community read to children at our story times. Add these activities to Fredricksen's already brimming event calendar, and winter looks better and better!

Do keep warm...our Coffee Corner in the lower lobby can help with that. We even serve hot chocolate!

First Saturday of every month from 1 pm to 3 pm

A Celtic Concert with Seasons! Tuesday, March 12 at 7 pm

Join us as we welcome St. Patrick's Day with the musical styling of Seasons.
