

Kids Learn at Story Time at the Joseph T. Simpson Public Library!

You can help us continue this great educational learning opportunity by sponsoring a storytime program.

The Importance of Early Literacy—Library storytime programs encourage children to develop a love of reading by presenting them with stories and activities in a fun, energetic environment. When kids see others excited about reading, it sets a positive example and encourages them to pick up books on their own.

Sponsors will be listed in our monthly Children's Corner calendar, and acknowledged at the storytime program.

Our Mission: Joseph T. Simpson Public Library is a community center for learning and leisure.

Rhyme Time—This 20-minute program is designed for children 18-months old and younger and a parent. Children and their parents sing songs, hear rhymes and short stories, and play rhythmic games.

Toddler Time—This 20-minute program is offered several times a week. Parents sit with their 18-month through three-year-old children and listen to stories, sing songs, learn finger plays, and play games.

Story Time—This 45-minute program, appropriate for children who are four to six-years-old, is offered two times a week. The children listen to stories, sing songs, learn poems, and play games.

Storybook STEAM —This hour long program for preschoolers, kindergarten, and their families is held on Monday evenings and is an exciting mix of science, technology, engineering, math, and literacy.

Visits to Preschool and Day Care Centers—Library staff visit 65 area preschools classes and 14 day care centers providing stories and early literacy activities for children.
